We are pleased to announce a new conference for college students, graduate students, ministers, and educators. This is a unique opportunity for those seeking to study the Bible, history, and science at a more technically-advanced level to learn from and interact with scientists and scholars featured in the film. The dates and location will be:

Freed-Hardeman University in Dickson
June 19-23, 2017

The conference will consist of lectures, discussions, Q&A's, personal time with the teachers, and much more. The goals of the week are:

- Give students and educators a solid foundation in understanding the world in light of Genesis.
- Provide professional guidance and advice for those seeking higher level degrees in scientific and Biblical fields.
- Show attendees how scientists and scholars do work in their respective fields.

Please note that, in order to maintain a good student-teacher ratio, a limited number of applicants will be accepted. Applicants will be chosen based on educational background, choice of studies, and personal interest. A link to the online application can be found at www.isgenesishistory.com.

DETAILS & COSTS

Conference Admission Cost:

- College & Graduate Students: Free
- Educators/Teachers: $350
- Others: $500

Payment for the conference will be required two weeks before conference start. At that point, the conference cost will be non-refundable with the exception of personal emergencies.
